

ReadyConnect[®]

ReadyConnect Audio and Web Conferencing Make the most of your ReadyConnect conference calls

ACT's automated audio and web services bring the ease of conferencing to a whole new level. With ReadyConnect, you have complete control of your audio and web conferences, with no reservation and no operator involvement required.

How can ReadyConnect help me?

Instant Access
Ease of Use
Increases Productivity
Saves Time & Money
No Hidden Fees

Our automated services enable you to:

- view documents, presentations and spreadsheets
- collaborate real-time with applications, documents and browsers
- control your conference via the web
- gather real-time feedback from your participants and publish results through polling
- exchange text messages with all participants, chairpersons or even specific participants
- record your conference with synchronized audio and web playback
- lock access to your conference or disconnect individuals at any time

How it works:

You can access your meeting through the telephone, over the Internet or both. With the simple login process, you have the ability to instantly start a meeting from your desktop or just pick up the phone and dial.

As a complement to your audio conference, ReadyConnect Web Meeting is also simple to use. With no downloads required and no software to install, it is extremely firewall friendly and ensures your meetings start on time. And with Microsoft Outlook[™] integration, sending meeting invites to your participants is effortless. This also allows your participants to conveniently join meetings through a direct link in their Outlook invitation or through www.acttel.com/readyconnect.

For your international participants, access is also straightforward. Participants can use in-country freephone/toll-free numbers or local access numbers to join the audio portion of the call.
